The Freymet will not form a cabinet, for the French government.

The town of Lake Linden, in northern Michigan, has been destroyed by fire.

When our distinguished friend, Mr. Blaine, really lands at Liverpool, we shall believe that "he is going to Europe."

Six hundred members of brass bands created a cyclone of noise at Shelby, Ohio, Friday, in the presence of 20,000 persons.

The Chautauqua Lake railway will be completed from Jamestown, N. Y., to Mayville, on the east side of the lake, by July 1st.

The Youngstown Telegram offers the use of its files to those who assert that it has opposed the Knights of Labor, to make good (if they can) their allegations.

We call attention to what Mr. Robert D. Brain says about local boots, in his "Rambler's Notes," printed in today's paper. There is a great deal of practical sense and solid, hard truth in his remarks.

Editor O'Brien was greeted with a shower of stones, at Kingston, Ontario, and he and members of his party were hit, but not seriously hurt. The Canadian Freeman, an Irish Catholic paper, was mobbed and wrecked.

Rhodrick Dhu Gambrell, of Jackson, Miss., editor of the Sound and Shield, and Mr. E. B. Ellis, a democratic politician, of Covington, Indiana, are the latest martyrs to their opposition to the liquor traffic. The end—of the liquor traffic—is brought a score of years nearer—by every assassination of this sort.

William J. Finley has erected, at his own expense, a fine monument at Toledo, to the memory of General James B. Steadman, the "hero of Chickamauga," which will be unveiled, with appropriate ceremonies, on the 20th of May. The editor of the REPUBLIC hereby acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to be present.

A BIG WEEK FOR "REPUBLIC" READERS.
We have given our readers, this week, three double-sheet issues, and three folio issues—the biggest ten cents' worth in the way of local or foreign newspapers ever given to the people of Springfield. We have not done this because we wished to make a display of enterprise, but because the pressure upon our advertising columns forced us to do it. We do not intend that our usual breadth and variety of reading matter shall be encroached upon, and shall spare no pains to protect our readers in their rights as to an abundance and completeness of interesting news and miscellaneous matter.

LEADING NEWSPAPERS.
Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, have just issued a pamphlet of 108 pages, in which they have undertaken to select about 2,000 out of the 15,420 newspapers named in the last issue of the American Newspaper Directory, and to assure the public that the selections made are sufficient for the most extensive advertiser's wants. It is claimed that, although they are in number only about one-eighth, yet they actually print more than seven-eighths of all the copies issued by the entire press of America.

The Newspaper Advertising Bureau of Geo. P. Rowell & Co. has been established twenty-two years, and twelve years ago the New York Times said of it: "They have the satisfaction of controlling the most extensive and complete advertising connection which has ever been secured, and one which would be hardly possible in any other country but this. They have succeeded in working down a complex business into so thoroughly a systematic method that no chance in the newspaper system of America can escape notice, while the widest information upon all topics interesting to advertisers is placed readily at the disposal of the public."

It is, perhaps, unnecessary to state that among the selected papers which Geo. P. Rowell & Co. specially recommend, the Republic is accorded an appropriate place.

The Lutheran Observer, of Philadelphia, copies the following from the National Republican, of Washington, which is found in its issue of May 10th:

Rev. William E. Parsons, of the Church of the Reformation (Lutheran), preached a very interesting sermon yesterday on the "Andover Question in the Concrete." Instead of the sweeping question as to the fate of the millions who died without hearing of Christ, he took the case of one man, and explained that ten years ago there died in the city of Kyoto, Japan, a man who was by nature a royal soul—Mr. Kido, the trusted adviser of the emperor. He was simple in manner, affectionate in disposition, a good man naturally. Those who knew him best called him a pious man, though he believed in no religion. He knew too much to believe in Buddhism, the popular religion of his own country, and not quite enough to accept Christianity intelligently.

In concluding his discourse, Mr. Parsons said:
"I thank God that the church to which I belong has no such awful dogma as to the fate of the millions who died without hearing of Christ, for holding that there might be some hope for those who die without having heard of Christ!"

The church (Congregational) which sustains Andover has "no such awful dogma" as Mr. Parsons refers to. The only point raised as to Andover is the entertaining of the conjecture or possibility, by some of the professors, that there might be a future probation, beyond the grave. The Evangelical English Lutheran church is not alone or peculiar in its broad liberality.

A large number of the representative business men of Springfield assembled, at the call of Mayor Kelly, in the Police Court room, Friday night, and a goodly proportion of them were young men. Manufacturers, merchants, bankers, professional men, and artisans and other laboring men, were present and manifested much interest in the proceedings. It seemed to be the unanimous wish of those present that an organization should be formed for the sole purpose of promoting the commercial, material and general interests of the city by legitimate and sensible means. All the addresses and discussions pointed in this direction and there is a good prospect that an effective and useful organization will be formed at an early day. If our newspaper friends at Columbus, Dayton, Toledo, Findlay, Lima and other cities, will send us copies of the plans of organization of their boards of trade, we will feel under renewed obligations to them.

A Dayton board of trade, man drove an eastern man about town, and he remarked: "Your rolling, fertile fields and groves cannot be surpassed," and adds: "You Dayton folks have a corner on the earth that should be known as earth's Eden." How is this? Are Main street and Third street already grown over with grass? No wonder Dayton is jealous of Xenia!

A few weeks ago Miss Frances Willard, the ablest and most influential of the prohibition party leaders in America—who is much more of a man and a gentleman than any of her political associates—wrote a letter to the New York Independent, in which she made a caustic attack upon the republican party for its failure to support the prohibition amendment in Michigan. She closed it with this paragraph:
"Who is responsible for the defeat of prohibition? To what extent was that party loyal to the protection of Michigan homes, which, because 'criticized' by the preference of another party to maintain its organization, deliberately joined ballots with the saloon keepers upon election day?"

To this the Independent made this truthful and complete answer:
"The vote on the amendment aggregated 365,292 (with one small county to hear from). How many of the smaller half of these votes against the saloon were cast by democrats? A very small fraction, was it not? How many were cast by the third party men? According to the report, the third party ticket received 18,500 votes against the amendment. Was not the bulk of the 18,500 votes for the amendment? Were not over 100,000 of them, at least, republican votes? Did not the republicans submit the amendment and then cast the bulk of the vote for it? Is it fair, then, to class it with the democratic party, as our correspondent did? As to joining ballots with the saloon keepers, third party voters did that in a number of instances in New Jersey, last fall; particularly in Morris county, where many third party tickets were voted with the name of the party's candidate for senator scratched out and that of the nominee of the democratic party, who was commended and supported by saloonists against a republican prohibition candidate, inserted."

The same state of things existed in Ohio. A republican legislature provided for the submission of a prohibitory amendment, and three-fourths of the votes cast for it were cast by republicans, and still the partisan prohibitionists not only never thanked them, but have been abusing and slandering them ever since. All that has ever been done for prohibition in Ohio has been done by republicans.

Messrs. Robert Clarke & Co., Cincinnati, have just published a work by the well known veteran lawyer, Judge William Johnson, well known here. It is entitled "Arguments to Courts and Juries." The publishers print the following testimonials to the value of the book:

"No one exceeds him, not even Daniel Webster, as a master of the English language."—Hon. Wm. S. Groves.
"The arguments published in this book show a large experience, a thorough understanding of human nature, a brilliant treatment of the facts involved, and are of absorbing interest. With one voice he was proclaimed the greatest jury lawyer of the Hamilton county bar. As a writer of the English language, 'pure and undiluted,' we do not know his equal."—Hon. E. A. Harrison.

"He had only the limited opportunities of the farmer boys of those pioneer days. Thrown upon his own resources, the eager boy sought books and devoured all he could procure. The Bible, Shakespeare, Dryden, Pope, Sterne, Byron, Scott, and a few others, were bought or borrowed, and were read and re-read until their contents were absorbed into his intellectual being. They were the foundation of a terse, vigorous and picturesque use of language, which, in after life, toned down by practice, resulted in a style so simple, pure and forcible that it is the best of models for forensic arguments."—Judge W. M. Dickson.

Mr. George Kennan, of Washington, D. C., who has relatives here, and who has occasionally lectured in Black's opera house, has recently returned from a trip to Siberia, in the interest of the Century, and he made a visit to Count Tolstoi, at the urgent request of the Siberian state exiles, who wished the novelist and tractarian to know the horrors of their situation. The forthcoming Century will contain an account of this visit and the circumstances leading to it, told with considerable detail and showing the Count's striking character and peculiar beliefs, together with his mode of life. His views on the problems of the time, as brought out in conversations, are presented. The Mormon and Chinese questions attracted his comment; and among Americans, he spoke with particular admiration of Wm. Lloyd Garrison and Theodore Parker. A frontispiece portrait of the novelist in his peasant blouse will be given.

Lewis Brewer, of Erie, Pa., and William H. Harrison, of Conneaut, Ohio, respectively engineer and conductor of the Nickel Plate excursion train that was wrecked at Silver Creek, New York, September 14th, at which time fourteen persons were killed and others injured, have been lying in jail at Mayville, Chautauqua county, until the time of their trial, a few days ago, when a jury, after an exhaustive trial, pronounced them not guilty. There was great cheering in the venerable Chautauqua court house when the verdict was announced.

R. R. Brandom & Co. have been house cleaning this week, and are now ready to receive you in good order. Their sales this week have been very large, notwithstanding their torn up condition. Call in and see their new styles and prices. They are doing the business and will sell you cheaper than any other house in the state. Go and see.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.
Hardly a week passes without the mention by the newspapers of sudden deaths, and of late the alarming frequency of the statement that death was caused by rheumatism or neuralgia of the heart cannot fail to have been noticed. In all probability many deaths attributed to heart disease are caused by these terrible diseases, which are far more dangerous than is generally considered. Is there any positive cure? The best answer to such a question is given by those who have been cured by the use of Atholophors.

E. A. Curry, son of Mrs. J. H. Curry, of New Paris, Ohio, says: "My mother, previous to her use of Atholophors had been almost a constant sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism of the most acute form. At the time she commenced with this medicine she was in a most helpless condition; her suffering could well be termed torture; she was confined to her bed for many weeks, nothing we had done gave her any relief. My father was almost discouraged and disheartened fearing there never would be any relief for her. Not knowing what to do next he came to town, going to Mr. Richey's drug store, he said he must have something that would at least give her relief. Mr. Richey spoke of Atholophors and told my father to go and see Josiah White about his use of it. Mr. White spoke highly of the medicine and advised my father to get a bottle and try it, which he did. After taking a few doses mother began to get relief, after she had used two bottles she was up and around and in a week's time she came down town. How long had she been afflicted with this rheumatism? For sixteen years, of course it would be better and worse at different times. How much did she use in all? It was asked, I think about three bottles."

Every druggist should keep Atholophors and Atholophors Pills, but where they can not be bought of the druggist the Atholophors Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Atholophors and 50c for Pills. For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, rheumatism, neuralgia, impure blood, etc., Atholophors Pills are unequalled.

—FOR THE—
Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Clark county are requested to meet at the places and on the dates hereinafter designated, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the republican county convention to be held at the Highways corner of Main and Center streets in the city of Springfield, Ohio, on Wednesday, May 25, 1887, at 10 o'clock a. m. Said convention will also select delegates to represent Clark county in the republican state convention. The following manner of selecting delegates has been adopted by the central committee. And delegates selected in any other manner will not be allowed to participate in the preliminary organization of the convention. Officers of the primary meetings are requested to promptly report to the secretary of the central committee the names of delegates selected in accordance with this call. If the hours herein named for the meetings in the various townships, precincts and wards, the republicans present shall organize by selecting a chairman, secretary, assistant secretary and two judges. Delegates shall be selected by ballot and no ticket shall contain more names than the township, precinct or ward is entitled to in the convention.

The name of each person voting shall be recorded before the ballot is received by the judges. And the receipt for the ballots shall be kept in a conspicuous place, and shall not be passed around to receive the ballots. The persons equal to the number of delegates to which township, precinct or ward is entitled to in the convention receiving the highest number of votes shall be the delegates. And the same number receiving the next highest vote shall be the alternates. The basis of representation is one delegate for every twenty votes cast for J. S. Robinson for secretary of state. And an additional delegate for any fractional part of twenty in excess of ten. The apportionment being as follows:
